Opened fall of 2017, Lodge Room Highland Park and Checker Hall are a music venue and restaurant/bar located on Figueroa Street in the Highland Park neighborhood of Los Angeles.

Housed within a 1922 architectural gem, originally built as a Masonic Lodge, the space is poised to become the iconic entertainment venue of Northeast Los Angeles hosting an eclectic mix of live music, performances and events complimented by fun, tasty neighborhood eats, draft beers and cocktails.

Checker Hall, the restaurant/bar, is approximately 1,700 square feet. The room enjoys 16-foot ceilings and French doors that open onto a balcony overlooking bustling Figueroa Street. Four distinct seating options (banquette cocktail seating, intimate booths, barstools and standard dining seating) accommodate approximately 125 guests with ample standing room areas as well. Chef Hovig Agop's Mediterranean menu offers a range of modern dips, salads, small plates and entrees at affordable price points, making Checker Hall an ideal destination for both everyday dining and special occasions.

Lodge Room Highland Park is a small music venue that can accommodate approximately 450+ standing room guests and has three separate bars. Lodge Room boasts a state of the art stage and sound system to host an eclectic mix of live performances and events. Architecturally, the Lodge Room possesses unique, historical woodwork and character.
